

Juan doesn't even have time to take a weapon out of his backpack before the crocodiles attack him. Juan fights them with his bare hands.

But suddenly...

The savages shoot the crocodiles with poison arrows and kill them on the spot.

You were a courageous fighter, but the game is over. You thought you could get away from us? In our forest? We know every tree and every puddle. We knew you'd try to cross the river and we waited for you on the other side.

Now we will reunite you with your son.

Juan's hands are bound and he is taken by the savages.

Jump in! You'll stay here until it's time to offer our sacrifices!

Yes!!

Hey...

SPLASH

Juan finds himself inside a pit filled with mud and another ten people.

Who are you?
What is this place?

Dad! Dad!
Is it you?

Cinco?!

Dad!
How did you get here?

And how did you get here?

In the pit, Juan Carlos finds his son and the band of kidnapers.

Cinco, my son!
I tried so hard to escape from the savages!
I never dreamed that you might have been captured by them too!

Yes, the kidnapers were caught by the savages a few days ago.
They're not familiar with the forest at all.

Enjoy your last moments with your son, Juan. The time for the sacrifice is coming and the savages prefer to take the young ones.
